Erhart / Erhart

Synopsis

A small Czech town, early autumn, the present. Young, energetic Erhart (23) returns to his hometown, after hearing of his mother's (50) mental breakdown and hospitalisation. Erhart's mother lives alone in a big family house and has been suffering from mental issues since her husband was jailed for privatisation fraud. She tells Erhart that their family house is for sale. At the same time, she claims that his missing father has returned to stop the sale and put things in order. Erhart is used to mother's delusions, but when he finds out, that their house actually belongs to an anonymous offshore company, he starts to doubt, what has so far been considered unconditional truth.

Lost in Paradise / Ztraceni v ráji

Logline

Evžen, a Swiss-Czech, lives a bohemian life in Prague. An unexpected journey back to Switzerland confronts him with the grotesque charm of the bourgeoisie and the lie his father has built his life on.

Synopsis

Evžen, a nonconformist Swiss-Czech, lives a bohemian life in Prague where he has been running a music club for many years. After a fire badly damages his beloved gem, Evžen finds himself in financial distress. The only option left is to go back to Switzerland, to ask for help. In a journey through the paradise-like lifestyle of the Berne bourgeoisie, he has to face his past while catching up with his dominant Czech father, his family and friends just to realize that happiness lies elsewhere. After all, it's a crocodile that reveals the lie his father has built his life in emigration on.

Director's Profile

Fiona Ziegler finished her studies in literature, international history and political science at the Universities of Fribourg, Bologna and Geneva. Shadow Country / Krajina ve stínu

Synopsis

A young, good-looking city girl, Marie, marries into a small Austrian town of Schwarzwald. A little vain for a small-town woman, she likes to dress up and makes her own clothes. The town is by Austrian border, in an area, forcibly annexed by Czechoslovakia in 1920. Most of the Czech-speaking citizens chose German nationality at the beginning of WW2. While peaceful during the war, the area was swept by violence right after the war. A group of malicious neighbours force fourteen wealthiest town inhabitants in front of the people's court and they are murdered. Marie and her two children have to cross the border into the woods, where they build a temporary shed of branches.

Director's Profile

Bohdan Sláma graduated from the FAMU (1997). His first feature, Wild Bees (2001), the portrait of a Moravian village and its quirky inhabitants, was distinguished by several international prizes. Throughout his work, from Something Like Happiness (2005), winner of multiple prizes at San Sebastian IFF, including the Golden Shell for best feature film, through The Country Teacher (Venice, 2008) to Ice Mother (Best Script, Tribeca FF 2015), family and close relations play a crucial role, and the prize-winning writer/director is admired internationally for his character-driven, warm-hearted and personal stories.
